The Artists in Learning Network is aimed at arts and education practitioners working in a variety of learning contexts with children and young people and aims to:

- Explore how we promote the value of art and culture in education in a rapidly changing education landscape
- Find the best ways for us to stay connected to each other and work better together
- Share training and funding opportunities
- Learn about the changes in Artsmark and Arts Award as catalysts for quality engagement with young people and collaboration
- Discuss local priorities and stimulate ideas for working in association with the arts and education sectors

There will be an opportunity to hear from our hosts, Donut Creative Arts Studio, about their new work and we will be sharing insights from schools, youth settings, libraries, museums, art and cultural organisations.

There will be inspiration from a range of organisations including The Mighty Creatives, who will be sharing information from across the region about development and partnership initiatives targeted at engaging children and young people in the benefits of a life rich in art and culture.
